HUNTINGTON -- The City of Huntington will conduct a clean sweep Tuesday, Sept. 10, through Thursday, Sept. 12, in Highlawn.

The sweep will cover 24th Street to 32nd Street from the Ohio River to the railroad and also will include the area near Spurlock's Flowers.

The City of Huntington's Public Works Department will conduct a sweep through all of the alleys in the area during this time. Work also will include cutting back trees and weeds from alleyways, citing vehicles that have been abandoned or don't have proper registration and issuing code enforcement citations for unkempt properties.

This also will be an opportunity for residents living in this area to set out bulky trash items before Sept. 10 to be hauled away. Items that will be hauled away include furniture, brush/yard waste, construction materials, appliances without Freon and dried paint cans. Items that will not be accepted include oils, liquid paint, appliances with Freon, car batteries and gas or propane tanks.
